

BROOKLYN DODGERS WIN WORLD SERIES

Eisenhower's Recovery Back on Schedule

About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHY T.

SPORTS DEPT.: This Timmo Dept. will be glad the ol' series is over and people can act normal again.

With the series coming in fine on local TV, I got time off for good behavior and saw a couple of games at home, which was good. Then on Friday things started getting confusing. There was TV baseball in the afternoon, Bull Dog football in the evening, TV world series again Saturday, then TV college football, and then SIU football by radio Saturday night. And again Sunday it was TV world series and I was so confused that when Duke Snider hit a home run I expected to see the red handkerchief go down any time with the play called back.

PREACHER MORMAN one day a week or more ago told me about his apple blossoms. Then Bill McIlrath, who lives out in the country, topped him by a mile. Bill brought in a branch of June apples. His tree had blossomed a second time and bore fruit. Real apples. Not little knots but real apples.

DAVENPORT'S Furniture and Carpet store finally has given up on the honesty of one little tiny segment of the public.

For six or seven months the store had outside a little red kettle, where the public could make its change for parking meters. It was a fine gesture.

But the little enterprise started losing money. It started losing it so consistently that the firm last week discontinued the accommodation.

MORE MAIL: From Italy Sept. 24: "Hello Tim. I am on my way to good old U. S. A. I will see you soon. John Poulos." John has been to Greece to see home folk.

Elks to Honor Outstanding Newsboy in City

Harrisburg Lodge No. 1058, B. P. O. Elks, is observing National Newspaper Week this week with a special program designed to honor the outstanding newsboy in this area. Exalted Ruler Charlie Skaggs announced today.

The idea behind National Newspaper Week is to focus attention on the role of the hometown newspapers in defending American freedoms, Skaggs said, and the local Elks observance will pinpoint the service provided by the newsboy in bringing the newspaper into the homes of citizens of the area.

National Newspaper Week is sponsored annually by Newspaper Association Managers, Inc., and for seven years the Order of Elks throughout the country has joined in honoring the press during its "week." In a special message to the Order's 1,744 lodges, John L. Walker of Roanoke, Va., Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, called the annual observance of Newspaper Week "a good tradition, because it enables our Order to demonstrate its unqualified support of the free press which is the surest guarantee of the safety of American freedom."

A ballot will appear in tomorrow's Register, with space for subscribers to vote for their candidates for outstanding newsboy, and their reasons for voting for their choice. Exalted Ruler Skaggs urged every Register reader to clip the ballot, fill it in, and mail it without fail, so that the truly outstanding newsboy in this community could receive the honors due him. An award will be presented to the winner in ceremonies conducted at a later date. Skaggs also pointed out that all newsboys in the city are eligible, including those delivering metropolitan papers on morning routes.

President Gives Nixon Letter To Conduct Gov't

Vice President Instructed to Hold Meetings

DENVER (AP) — If any were needed, the public could take full reassurance today that President Eisenhower's recovery was well back on schedule.

The first medical bulletin of the day on the President's condition issued by his physicians at Fitzsimons Army Hospital at 7 a. m. MST (8 a. m. CST) said he got in a full eight hours of sleep Monday night. It said he awoke feeling rested and refreshed after putting in more work Monday night than at any time since he has been ill.

The President's doctors said Mr. Eisenhower was showing satisfactory progress and there were no indications of any complications. This was similar to Monday's reports which followed in the wake of Sunday night's brief scare when it was reported that the President appeared to be "a little tired."

The "fatigue" turned out to be restlessness at having to lie in bed more than anything else.

Among the items of Mr. Eisenhower's work Monday night was approval of a letter giving Vice President Richard M. Nixon a vote of confidence in his conduct of the government during the President's absence.

After consultation among the high powers of the administration, Sherman Adams, the assistant to the President, submitted Monday night to Mr. Eisenhower a draft copy of a letter instructing Nixon to continue holding meetings of the National Security Council and the cabinet.

Prepared in Capitol

The letter was prepared in Washington under the supervision of Adams and telephoned to Denver for Mr. Eisenhower's signature, as the President began to resume the operating details of the government. The letter arrived before Adams, who reached Denver Saturday.

Nixon knew months ago that he was expected to hold the meetings; that was shown by the President's phraseology. But among the early business duties of the Chief Executive in his recuperation was a need to reinforce Nixon's current position with the administration and the Republican Party.

Mr. Eisenhower spent 10 minutes with Adams and the taciturn former governor of New Hampshire confined his session with the President to submission of official papers that were not pressing in themselves, but important in the administration of a federal establishment.

NEWSPAPER WEEK: The Big Window

Roaring Hurricane Ion Powerful Wallop at Eas

The Front Page of a newspaper brings you the world. You can see just so much of your community from your home. But each day a big window opens up. It is your newspaper and through it you may see many things. They're amazing, inspiring or informative. Some, frankly, are dingy. But even they, in their way, help avoid pitfalls of life. We live but once. The daily opening of the big window interprets life, draws you out as a part of it.

Sen. Mansfield Says Eisenhower, Johnson Both May Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mike Mansfield said today that neither Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson nor President Eisenhower should be counted out of the 1956 presidential picture because they suffered heart attacks.

The Montana Democrat said their "abilities and statesmanship should not be lost to our country, but should be available in these critical times if at all possible."

Mansfield said he sees no reason why Mr. Eisenhower should not seek a second term if he "wants to re-run and the doctors advise accordingly."

Johnson Not Counted Out

He pointed out that Johnson recovered from a heart attack suffered last summer and added: "I do not by any means count out Sen. Johnson as a potential candidate on a presidential ticket."

Mansfield said he expects Johnson to resume "complete charge" of Democratic leadership in the Senate when Congress reconvenes in January.

"We Democrats are not writing off Lyndon Johnson," Mansfield said. "Why should the Republicans write off Mr. Eisenhower?"

Mansfield said heart attacks are becoming "quite common," but that there are "many men who have much to offer their country after an illness of this kind."

On the Republican side, GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall continued to keep the door open for a second term race by Mr. Eisenhower. While refusing to "inappropriate" to speculate on the President's 1956 plans, Hall said Mr. Eisenhower himself must determine whether a sense of duty should compel him to seek reelection.

Image Of Ike

Hall, in a radio appearance Monday night, emphasized, however, that even if Mr. Eisenhower does not run again, the Republicans will be campaigning on the Eisenhower record. The Republican Party, he said, "has taken on the image" of Mr. Eisenhower and there is no division in Republican ranks today "like there is in the Democratic Party."

Both Hall and Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler, meanwhile, expressed confidence over their party's political prospects in the South.

Butler, preparing for a "fence-mending" trip to Dixie, predicted "a very solid South" for the Democrats in 1956. Hall predicted the GOP will pick up additional congressional seats in the South "whether Mr. Eisenhower runs or not."

India Leader Urges France to Return to UN

Menon Assures Algerian Question No Slight to Gov't

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—India's V. K. Krishna Menon, an acknowledged leader of the powerful Arab-Asian group which fought successfully to put the Algerian question on the agenda of the General Assembly, called upon France today to return to the United Nations.

French Prime Minister Edgar Faure ordered his entire delegation to return to Paris after the General Assembly voted, 28-27, last Friday to put the Algerian issue up for debate. The French contend that Algeria is an integral part of metropolitan France and that the U. N. is prohibited from interference in domestic affairs of any country.

For the second day, the 10-place French desk in the assembly hall was vacant. Krishna Menon said that despite this, he wanted to assure the French that the motive in raising the Algerian question was "not in the slightest degree intended as a slight to the French government."

The Indian assetic final speaker in the assembly's annual policy debate, delivered a rambling review of world affairs in which he: Called upon the major powers to "throw the hydrogen bomb away." As far as India is concerned, he said, the U. N. is "fully committed to the total prohibition of the atomic weapon."

Saluted President Eisenhower's proposal for an exchange of military blueprints and aerial inspection and said "it must be a matter of relief and congratulations for all of us that the other party concerned, the U.S.S.R., has also expressed the view that in principle there is no objection."

Van Fleet Warns Red China Greater Threat Than Russia

UKTONG, Korea (AP)—Retired Gen. James A. Van Fleet warned today that "for the next several years" Communist China will be a greater threat to the free world than the Soviet Union itself.

The wartime commander of the U. S. 8th Army demanded that the "enemy" account for missing American and other United Nations soldiers of the Korean War. His son is one of those missing.

Van Fleet made the statements in an address to the first graduating class of the Republic of Korea's military academy.

"For the next several years," Van Fleet said, "the possibilities of further areas critically important to the free world is greater than the possibilities of war with the Soviet Union."

French Prime Minister Edgar Faure ordered his entire delegation to return to Paris after the General Assembly voted, 28-27, last Friday to put the Algerian issue up for debate. Podres Hurls Bums to First Championship

NEW YORK (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, behind the stout-hearted pitching of Johnny Podres, won their first World Series in eight tries today, when they defeated the New York Yankees, 2-0, in the seventh and deciding game of the 1955 classic.

It was a great triumph for the Dodgers, but an even greater one for the 23-year-old southpaw, who turned back the mighty Yankees on eight hits before a roaring crowd of 62,465 in Yankee Stadium. There were heroes galore for the Dodgers today, but none of them matched Podres. He was in trouble time after time, some of those times on bad breaks, but he always managed to come up with what it took when danger beckoned.

And the power to give him his well deserved triumph was supplied in the main by big first baseman Gil Hodges. And the defense it took to keep the Yankees away from the plate was supplied by leftfielder Sandy Amoros.

So while all in all, it was a team victory, Podres was the man of the day. His teammates swarmed over him when he got rookie outfielder Elston Howard to ground out for the final out and end 55 years of frustration for the Dodgers.

That's how long they have been trying to win the series, and this was their eighth crack at it—six against these same Yankees.

Dodgers First: Rizzuto threw out Gilliam. Reese sent a high fly to Cerv. Martin moved quickly toward first to take Snider's sharp grounder and throw him out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Yankees First: After fouling off four pitches Rizzuto popped out to Campanella. Martin flied to Gilliam near the leftfield foul line. McDougald was called out on strikes.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Dodgers Second: Campanella hit an easy grounder to Martin who threw him out. Furillo lined the first pitch sharply to Howard.

Hodges walked, becoming the game's first base runner. Martin tossed out Hoak, the ball almost hitting Hodges heading for second.

Yankees Second: Berra lined to Snider who made a running catch. Bauer hit a slow pitch for a grounder to Zimmer, who tossed him out. After throwing his bat and almost hitting Cerv, Rizzuto tossed out Hoak, the ball almost hitting Hodges heading for second.

Dodgers Third: Rizzuto tossed out Zimmer. Martin threw out Podres. Gilliam walked on four pitches. Reese lined to Cerv.

Yankees Third: Howard hit a change-up for a high fly to Snider. Byrne was called out on strikes. Rizzuto walked on four pitches for the first base on balls issued by Podres. When the first two pitches to Martin were balls, right-hand Bessent started to walk up for Brooklyn. Martin singled to right, Rizzuto stopping at second. Manager Alston went out to talk to Podres. He kept him in the game. McDougald's grounder hit Rizzuto going into third and Rizzuto was automatically out although McDougald was credited with a single.

No runs, two hits, no errors, two left.

French Troops Battle Rebels In Morocco

FEZ, Morocco (AP)—Sweating French troops equipped with modern cannon, tanks and jet planes battled savage Berber tribesmen today in a march of vengeance across the dusty slopes of the Atlas Mountains.

The French were driving the rebels slowly backward toward the border of Spanish Morocco but new reports rolled in of the bearded tribesmen galloping into native villages in new orgies of rape and murder against pro-French Moroccan.

There were isolated battles between men armed with old-fashioned rifles and modern jet fighters and bombers. One bomber returned to base with 25 bullet holes in its tail and fuselage.

The rebellion against French rule in the protectorate came soon after Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat fled his throne to the safety of international Tangier. The rebels said the French let him go without setting up the regency council they had been promised.

The death toll in fighting of the past three days was estimated at more than 200.

Actor Jess Barker Ordered to Make Paternity Payments

HOLLYWOOD — Actor Jess Barker, who claimed his relations with actress Yvonne Doughty were "strictly on a friendship basis" long before her child was conceived, must make paternity payments until his relationship to the child is definitely established.

Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle ruled Monday after three days of testimony in a preliminary hearing on the actress' paternity suit that there was sufficient evidence to require Barker to make the payments pending trial of the suit.

The 25-year-old actress-model accused Barker, 41, of fathering the baby she expects in November.

FOLGER'S GIVES YOU MORE FLAVOR PER CUP

... the richer, more satisfying flavor that comes only from skillful blending and roasting of Mountain-Grown coffees

For breakfast, there's nothing like the heart-warming lift of freshly brewed Folger's Coffee, because you get so much more vigorous flavor, so much more lively coffee goodness in every single cup.

Folger's, you see, selects only the finest coffees, Mountain-Grown coffees that are naturally more flavorful. They blend and prepare them with a unique century-old Folger "touch" that produces not only a richer flavor, but a truly distinctive flavor no other coffee can match.

Tomorrow morning, taste and see what a delicious difference Folger's richer flavor makes!

Who Rides With Wyatt

by Will Henry

It was 20 minutes of 10 when Jake Shagrow left the Cosmopolitan Hotel that night of March 21. Wyatt's three deputies rounded up the fifth member of their little posse and got him back to Wyatt's room, Doc Holliday.

Colonel Herring broke into the room right on the Georgia gunman's boot heels.

"Wyatt, you're trapped. Johnny Behan and Dave Neagle are down in the lobby. Outside in the street they've got at least 10 deputies."

"They bother our horses yet?" asked Wyatt quickly.

"No," said Herring.

Wyatt looked around at his deputies.

Vermilion, McMahers and Johnson were not just old federal officers; they were, each in his own professional right, gunmen of reputation. None of them opened his mouth. Each, in turn, just bobbed his head a little. Wyatt never even looked at Doc. There was no need to.

"Colonel," he said to Herring, "you best wait up here until this is over."

"Not much!" the Safety Committee leader exclaimed.

Wyatt and his men came down the lobby stairs, descending slow and watchful. Wyatt in front, the four others flanking him. All of them had on two belts and all of them, save Doc, carried double-barreled shotguns.

As Wyatt hit the lobby floor, Behan moved nervously up to him.

"Wyatt, I want to see you."

Wyatt looked at Behan a long three seconds, nodded easily.

"Johnny, someday you'll see me once too often."

The Cochise sheriff stepped back out of the way.

Outside, Wyatt halted his little posse and stared at the sheriff's deputies. "If you gentlemen are waiting to see me," he announced politely, "you can quit waiting. I'm here."

Not a deputy moved.

Wyatt went only far enough into the Dragons to be reasonably safe from immediate pursuit. There, he called a halt until daylight. This was not going to be any rush job like the first visit to the Sulphur Springs ranch. He was going to take his time, start with the ruder hideout, work south from there, combing every inch of Cochise County in his last search for Morg's killers.

With dawn they rode on, reaching the ranch about noon. Again, the only bird remaining in the bush was Indian Charlie Cruz. This time, however, the halfbreed "flushed," making for his ready-saddled horse on the run. McMahers creased him with a snapshot. He wasn't bad hurt.

"What made you want to help kill my brother?"

Wyatt asked it very softly. The breed, sensing he was about to be let go, shook off his fear. "Curly Bill, Frank Stilwell, Spence and Ringo and them boys, they're my friends. They said we'd all make money if you Earps was out of the way, and Curly—he give me $25."

Twenty-five lousy dollars! The cold shock of it leaped through Wyatt's mind.

"I'm going to kill him," he said to Sherm McMahers. "He's got two guns on. You tell him you'll count to three, and that I won't draw until after 'tres.' He's to go ahead and pull any time he's a mind to. If he beats me, he's to go scot-free."

McMahers repeated the offer in Spanish.

Cruz's guns were out of their holsters and up and leveled, when the single .44 smashed through his forehead.

It was significant of a time when the law rode on a peace officer's hip and not in the fuzzy minds of 12 good men and true, that none of the deputies looked back nor thought Indian Charlie Cruz had got anything less than a fair trial by a jury of his certain peers.

Curly Bill, Ringo and the lot of the Sulphur Springs bunch had indeed come to town. And, to the bad surprise of even Behan's stoutest friends, had been at once deputized by the Cochise sheriff to make up the posse that was to hunt Wyatt down. They had split into two outfits; one under Curly Bill, to comb the west side of the San Pedro; the other under John Ringo.

Former Bowl Football Player New Head of Kroger Meat Department

A former Missouri university varsity football player who played in two New Year's bowl games is the new head of the meat department at the Harrisburg Kroger supermarket.

He is Herman Baechel, who succeeds Claude Street as head meat cutter.

Baechel was a varsity guard and linebacker on the MU team of 1949, which played Clemson, and the 1950 team which played Maryland in the "Gator Bowl" in Florida. He was graduated from the university in 1952.

During his senior year he was interviewed by Kroger and was selected to take part in the Kroger general training course, of which the meat department is one phase. He came here from the meat department of the Du Quoin Kroger store.

He spent two years in the Air Force after joining Kroger, one of them in the Arctic region, and returned to Kroger in 1954.

Baechel is single.

Airlift Food to Flood Stricken Gulf Coast Area

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP)—U. S. Navy helicopters and Air Force C46s carrying food and medicines provided a lifeline today for hundreds of persons marooned throughout the Gulf Coast zone flooded by the big Panuco and Tamesi rivers.

An area of 30,000 square miles was reported flooded in the wake of two hurricanes with the water still rising at the rate of two inches per hour. Tropical storms Gladys and Hilda last month took almost 300 lives and hundreds of others are still missing. At least 75,000 persons were reported homeless.

The 14 helicopters arrived Saturday afternoon on the aircraft carrier Saipan with huge stores of food and medicines for the stricken port city of Tampico, which has been inundated for 32 days.

A fleet of C46s were shuttling between Harlingen and Ellington Air Force bases in Texas to the stricken area. They carried flour, rice, beans, milk, cheese, butter and canned meats for the thousands of homeless.

Rear Adm. M. E. Miles, Navy relief director for the area, said he had "never seen a disaster of such proportions."

Test More Potent Vaccine

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—An "even more potent" polio vaccine than the one given millions of school children this year is being tested, Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said today.

O'Connor said that Dr. Jonas Salk, who developed the vaccine given to first and second graders in mass inoculations this year, is testing a more potent vaccine. He added that the foundation has given $100,000 to Dr. Albert Sabin for his project to find a live virus polio vaccine.

O'Connor, here for a tri-state foundation conference, said that although the first program of three shots was a nine-million-dollar gamble, tests proved the Salk vaccine gives long term protection.

Arms to Egypt Will Not Relax Tensions: Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today he has told Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that delivery of arms to Egypt would not contribute to relaxing world tensions.

Dulles said he voiced the warning during two talks with Molotov in New York last week.

Dulles conferred on the Egyptian arms issue Monday with British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan. Western diplomats are concerned that the proposed sale of Communist arms to Egypt will encourage more fighting between Egypt and Israel.

Egypt recently announced that it had agreed to buy arms from Communist Czechoslovakia. It maintained it took the action only after the United States and other Western powers had turned down its plea for arms to defend itself. Dulles disclosed his talk with Molotov at a news conference. He also appealed anew for support of his proposal for the United Nations to underwrite security guarantees in the tense Middle Eastern area.

Dulles was optimistic about the prospects for President Eisenhower's recovery from his recent heart attack.

Dulles said there was every reason to anticipate that he would be able to talk with the President on any matters which might become urgent in the field of foreign affairs.

But the secretary emphasized that so far no emergency has developed in the foreign affairs field and that there has been no cause for alarm.

Asked when he might go to Denver to see Mr. Eisenhower, Dulles said two factors are involved—the President's health and a need to go to discuss any urgent matter.

Ag Department Hits Freight Rates For Income Drop

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission hears more objections today to continuing temporary 12 to 15 per cent freight rate increases, blamed by the Department of Agriculture for part of the drop in farmers' income.

Walter D. Matson, Agriculture Department attorney, said high freight rates have caught the farmers in a two-way "price squeeze" by depressing prices they receive for their products and increasing prices they must pay for supplies.

Matson asked the ICC Monday to cut back the increases on farm commodities. He said a reduction would help alleviate the farmers' plight.

Farmers' income has dropped nearly three billion dollars in the last three years, he said. In contrast, he said, the "financial health" of the railroads "was never better."

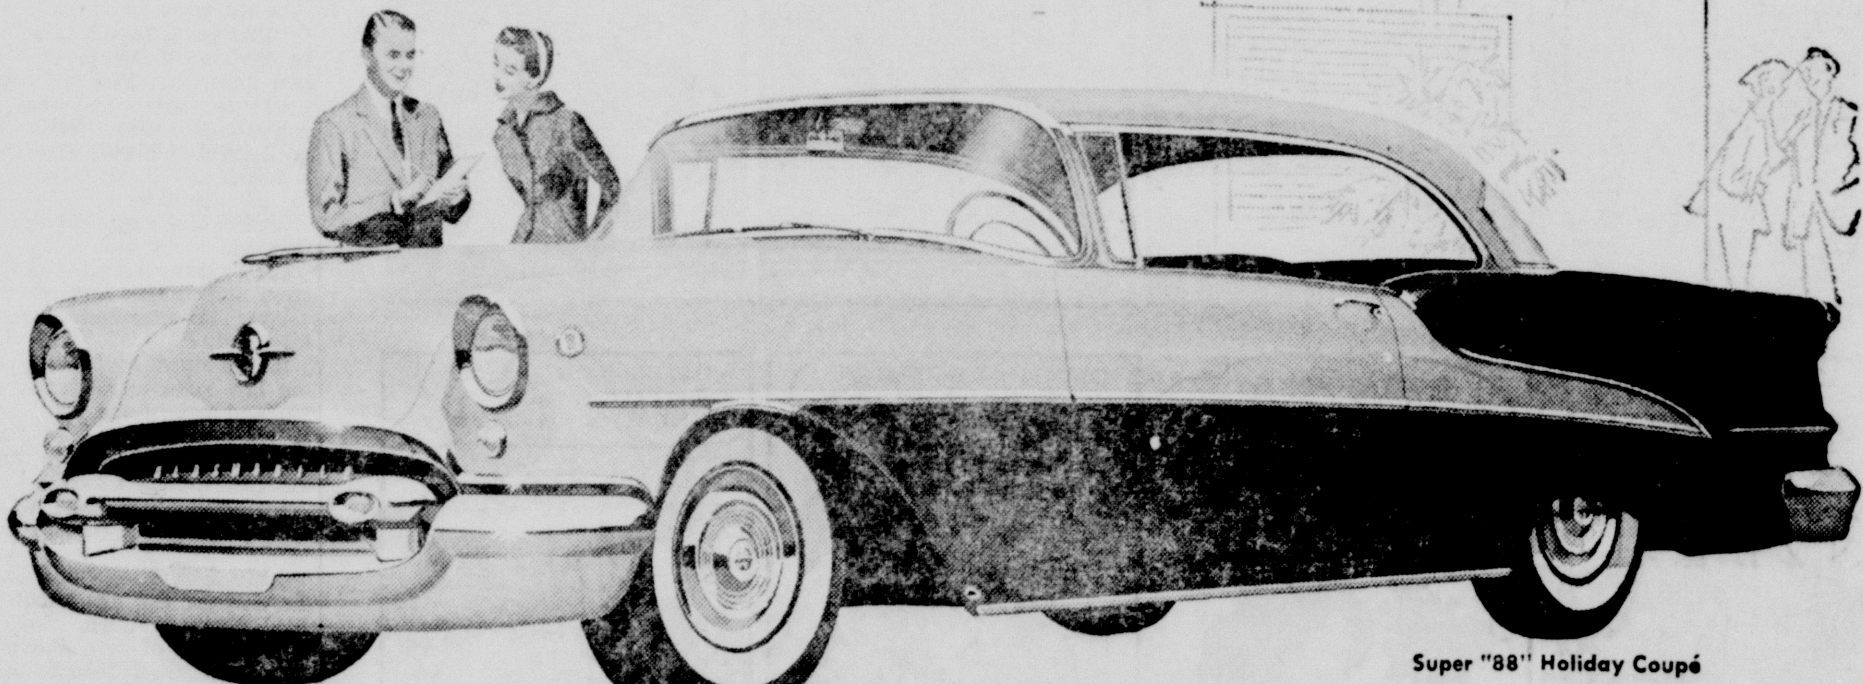

The freight rate boosts have been in effect since 1952, but are due to expire at the end of this year. They are producing about 911 million dollars in railroad revenues this year, railroad spokesman E. H. Burgess said.

Burgess, vice president and counsel of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, told the ICC that dropping the increases would mean an "economic death sentence" to the railroads. The rail lines have asked that the increases be made permanent. The ICC is hearing final arguments on the question.

Bull Dogs May Face Tough Passing Attack by Rams Friday

The Mt. Vernon Rams, grid foe of the Harrisburg Bull Dogs at Taylor Field Friday night, passed the Albion Lions to death to win, 58 to 9, at Mt. Vernon last week-end.

The Rams, who looked so good against Chester in their opener, then blew sky high in losing 40-6 to Herrin, came back strong against the Lions and proved that they weren't near as bad as the Herrin score indicated.

Mt. Vernon made 14 first downs to Albion's six, made 118 yards rushing to Albion's 19, completed 13 of 19 forward passes for 301 yards while Albion made one for 11 yards.

Mt. Vernon fired four complete passes in a row in the first quarter and three of them were good for touchdowns, which indicates what the Bull Dogs may be seeing at Taylor Field. Most of the tossing was done by Jarrell Graham, connecting with David McCann, Wiley Hopkins, Don Neal, Mike McGannon and Jim Irwin.

Irwin and Howard Clifton were responsible for most of the gains on the ground.

Two Loop Wins for Herrin
In a South Seven game Herrin moved to the top of the heap with a 26-19 win over Centralia.

The result gave Herrin 2-0 in South Seven competition against Centralia's 1-1. Harrisburg with 1-0 is the only other unbeaten team in loop play except West Frankfort, yet to play a conference opponent.

At Herrin, the Tigers made 26 points the first half to none for the Orphans and held on during the last half as Centralia made a desperate bid to come from behind and win, rolling up 19 points.

Herrin made nine first downs to seven for Centralia, was outscored by Centralia 255 to 178 but gained 47 yards by passing to four for the Orphans. Herrin completed five out of nine passes, Centralia one out of five.

The Tigers scored once in the first quarter and three times in the second, looking sensational, as they kept the Orphans from making a first down in the first half. But the tide turned the other way the last half as fullback Larry McGreavey and halfback Sylvester Hutcherson ran for big gains.

Rangers Win, 37-6
Benton had no trouble at all in trouncing Marion, 37 to 6, to become a big factor in the South Seven race.

The Benton Evening News said that in pounding to a victory "the Rangers wasted few opportunities to score, from the time slender Jim Rhodes took the game-opening kickoff on his own 10 and sprinted all the way to a touchdown." Jim is the son of Claude "Dusty" Rhodes, the well-known official.

The paper also said that "the spirited Rangers provided a far more sparkling team than the one which let Centralia push it around for a 13-0 decision, or even the team which topped Carmi in the first game of the year."

Benton made 14 first downs to Marion, made 274 yards rushing and 40 passing to 159 yards passing for Marion.

West Frankfort, after tying Carbondale, won its second straight game by beating a good Effingham eleven, 27-20, at Frankfort. Dick Doty made two of the Frankfort touchdowns on long runs as the Frankfort backs had good success in running the ends.

Eliot is Riding Clouds with Unbeaten Illini

CHICAGO (AP)—Ray Eliot knows the football bubble he's blown up at Illinois will burst pretty quick, but he can't help enjoying a ride in the clouds at the moment.

"We won't be any contender for the championship," he said today, but at least we've had some good games, and maybe we'll have some more."

Eliot's eleven, which last year failed to win a Big Ten game and beat only Syracuse along the nine game schedule, so far is undefeated this season in two starts with triumphs over California and Iowa State.

Each victory came as somewhat of a surprise to the veteran coach, beginning his 14th season with the Illini, because he completely revamped his line in practice, putting reserves from last year in strange positions to get the benefit of as much experience as possible.

Can Keep Improving
"What we've been trying to do," he said, "is to get our football players in the lineup. We've made our mistakes and we've got our weaknesses. We're green in a lot of places. But if we can keep improving, maybe we won't disgrace ourselves."

The major talent displayed by Eliot's eleven so far has been speed. Even the line, a trifle larger than Illinois teams in the recent past, has good speed and has been blocking expertly.

Though sophomore Rod Hanson has started both Illini games at end, sophomore fullback Ray Nitschke proved the biggest surprise among the newcomers. Saturday against Iowa State he scored three touchdowns and made 88 yards rushing.

"That was Nitschke's first time at fullback," Eliot said, "and he did very well. But we know he's not that great. But he's a substantial boy and we know he will develop."

We've only played two games, and perhaps we haven't played against the best teams. Wait until we play a good team. This is the week we get our test."

This Saturday the Illini travel to Ohio State to face the defending conference champions while in other Big Ten games Wisconsin plays at Purdue, Indiana at Iowa and Minnesota at Northwestern. Non-league affairs match Notre Dame at Miami, Fla., Friday night, Stanford at Michigan State and Army at Michigan.

Bull Pups Beat Eldorado's Eaglets, 22-6

Locals Bounce Back During Final Two Periods

The Harrisburg Bull Pups last night bounced back from a dismal first half to play good football the last two periods and defeat the Eldorado B team, 22 to 6.

Donald Biggs ran the opening kickoff back 80 yards for a touchdown to give the locals a 6-0 lead in the first few seconds and apparently the Pups thought they had a soft touch. The Eaglets roared back after taking the next kickoff to run up three first downs as Tosh and Feunquay made good yardage to tie the count at 6-6.

Then throughout the remainder of the first half the locals looked helpless as Eldorado pushed all over the field but did not score. However, when the half ended Eldorado was on the H-1 with three plays to make the tally.

Locals Start Rolling
In the second half, with Eddie Price doing some nice plunging, the other backs picking up their yardage and the Pup line charging much better, the locals got to rolling.

First time they got the ball in the third quarter the Pups made three first downs in a row as they moved to the E-2, from where Price plunged over. Bob Clark drove over for the extra point.

In the fourth period Harrisburg moved to the E-6 but lost the ball on downs. However, Eldorado's Feunquay was tackled in the end zone by Pup end Bud Logan and the locals had another two points to make the count 15-6.

Harrisburg then moved again, with Mickey Stone going the last yard to score. Clark again drove for the extra point and the final count was 22-6.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

Friday night at Taylor Field the Harrisburg Bull Dogs and Mt. Vernon Rams will meet in their fourth annual Shrine game. The Bull Dogs, in addition to fighting to stay in the unbeaten class, will be trying for a second leg on the Shriners trophy.

A look at the records for the past ten years indicates Harrisburg has more than held its own with the Rams in football. During the ten-year span from 1945 to 1954 Harrisburg won six decisions, dropped three and one game ended in a tie.

The scores:
1945—Harrisburg 7, Mt. Vernon 6.
1946—Harrisburg 7, Mt. Vernon 21.
1947—Harrisburg 14, Mt. Vernon 6.
1948—Harrisburg 18, Mt. Vernon 6.
1949—Harrisburg 7, Mt. Vernon 6.
1950—Harrisburg 20, Mt. Vernon 7.
1951—Harrisburg 6, Mt. Vernon 6.
1952—Harrisburg 7, Mt. Vernon 26.
1953—Harrisburg 6, Mt. Vernon 7.
1954—Harrisburg 6, Mt. Vernon 0.

Mike T. Heggin, Harrisburg mail carrier and sports fan, is the champion in the "you pick 'em" contest for games played Friday, Sept. 30. Mike picked 9 winners and only one loser and had a spread of 12 points in the game of the week, Harrisburg vs. Eldorado. Mike picked Harrisburg to win 19-7.

Fishing Mike for honors was Carroll Schwartz, who also had nine winners and just one loser, but on picking the score of the game of the week he had a spread of 13 points. That put Mike the winner "by a nose." Carroll had Harrisburg winning from Eldorado 19-6.

Both Mike and Carroll fell by the wayside when Carmi edged Johnston City 20-19, as both selected Johnston City to win.

What might have been an unusually fine selection by Ira Stiley was nullified when he failed to pick a winner in the Carbondale-Anna game. Stiley made selections in nine of the ten games listed and missed just the Carmi-Johnston City game. And in the game of the week he hit the score exactly, Harrisburg 13, Eldorado 7.

Two participants picked the game of the week to be a tie and each predicted a 13-13 score. Picking the game to end in a 13-13 deadlock were "Kayo" Willis, coach at Equality high school and Ronny Riegel, now a student at SIU and the "you pick 'em" champ of a week ago.

The "you pick 'em" for games to be played Friday, Oct. 7, Benton at Eldorado, Marion at West Frankfort, Murphysboro at Centralia, Carbondale at Sparta, Pinckneyville at Anna, Metropolis at Cairo, Carmi at Albion, Cahokia at McLeansboro, Zeigler at Johnston City, Mt. Vernon at Harrisburg (game of the week).

Peron's Labor Group Crumbling In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The powerful General Workers Confederation of Labor (OGT), one of ousted President Juan D. Peron's strongest political props, was crumbling today before the new regime.

The OGT was the only one of Peron's three principal supporting groups to survive the army, navy and air force revolution led by provisional President Eduardo Lonardi. Most of the Peronista men's party leaders are in jail, and the women's party seems to have fallen apart.

Rank and file discontent among the six million workers of the OGT's unions came to a violent head Monday night and today, when Peronista leaders were ousted in at least a dozen key groups and local executive boards seized by rebels.

The discontent has been simmering since last year. It has been based principally on the habit of Peron's supporters in forcing officers of their own choosing on the workers through strongarm methods. Also, the workers were aroused by the evidence of personal wealth acquired by members of the Peron regime.

Following the rebel raids Monday night and this morning, many of them by oldtime union leaders believed to be Communists or socialists, Hugo de Prieto, secretary general of the OGT, complained to Lonardi that the workers were seizing the locals and ousting the executives.

Earlier, Lonardi had assured the nation that he wants to "go quietly home" as soon as he can hand over the government to elected officials.

Rules for High School Soil Essay Contest

C. Raymond Gardner, Saline county superintendent of schools, today revealed the rules and regulations for the Saline County Soil Conservation district high school essay contest.

The rules were adopted by the board of directors of the conservation district, and the contest will be offered the students in high schools of Carrier Mills, Eldorado, Galatia and Harrisburg. Deadline for writing the essay is December 9.

Here are some of the major rules:

Any high school student may participate and write on the subject, "Soil Conservation — Its Value to Saline County."

The essay must be approximately 1,000 words long, be typed double spaced, or written in ink, on one side only of 8 1/2 by 11 inch paper. The manuscript must be stapled in the upper left hand corner and not folded and have the title or subject placed at the top of Page 1. It must have a cover page giving the name of the author, the author's home address, the school attended and whether the writer is a freshman, sophomore, junior or senior.

Individual awards of a $25 savings bond will be given to the essay judged best from each school and a $50 bond will be given to the first place winner in the county. The awards will be made at the Saline County Soil Conservation district annual meeting in January, at which time the county winner will read his essay. All winners are asked to be present to receive the awards.

The essays will be judged by a committee appointed by the board of directors of the Saline county district and will be based upon: 75 per cent for evidence of research, subject matter knowledge and originality; 25 per cent for neatness, composition and grammar.

U. I. President Hits Criticism To Public Schools

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—President David Dods Henry of the University of Illinois said today "much current criticism is misdirected" and the "public schools are doing a better job than they are credited with."

Henry welcomed state high school principals to a two-day meeting on the university campus. The meeting will include conferences of the Illinois Secondary School Principals' Assn., Illinois High School Assn., and the North Central Association for Illinois Schools.

"Criticism dims when you consider what's right with the schools," Henry said.

"School people know the way to improvement if given tools to do the job," he said. "Criticism should be aimed at overcrowded classes, half-day sessions, overloads, low salaries and minimal services."

Reserve Program Off to Slow Start

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new Army reserve program got off to a slow start today with only 1,167 youngsters volunteering for the six months training.

But the Army said 1,505 pre-draft youths would soon join them. By next June 30, the Army said, it expects to induct 53,000 young men under 18 1/2 into the program.

The Army announced Monday that the first volunteers had started their reserve training at five military posts. They will be obliged to serve 7 1/2 years in the ready reserves or National Guard after their six months on active duty. The Army is authorized to take as many as 90,000 young men into the program if it can recruit them.

Lovelorn Mechanic Terrorizes City In Stolen Plane

NORLOEPING, Sweden (AP)—A lovelorn airplane mechanic terrorized this city Monday night in a stolen plane which he threatened to crash in a suicide attempt into the home of his just-divorced wife.

The novel "suicide" attempt ended, however, when the plane crashed into a powerline just outside of town. The mechanic, whom police said never piloted a powered aircraft before, escaped with a strained shoulder and minor facial bruises. He took a taxi back to town and was arrested by waiting police at the city limits.

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath).
